Hello friend,

I wanted to send you a special email to remind you to watch General Conference today. I know you may have already received one from the church, but I wanted to add my testimony of how important General Conference is this year.

Of course, this year has been difficult. I don't even want to list all the things that have caused stress for everyone. But the fact that the world is in turmoil doesn't discount the fact that there is a God.

He knows what's happening.

In fact, he has tried to tell us that it would happen. Many prophets have prophesied that the last days would be troubling times. And if we learn anything from the Book of Mormon or the Bible is that when prophets come with a message for the people of that time and place, the people should listen. Because we see what happens when they don't. That's why scriptures have been preserved for us. So we can learn from the past.

Today and tomorrow we have 'prophets, seers, and revelators' sharing messages with us. I hope we will pay close attention to what they say. Or, in other words, I hope we hear the messages that God has for us.

He is our Heavenly Father. He knows each of us individually and loves us unconditionally.

He has something to say to you.

This is how he communicates.

Listen.

With love,

Bishop Williams

P.S.

You can watch it here at 9am and 1pm today and tomorrow. And a Women's Conference at 5pm today.
